Living Out The Truth

God revealed Himself to us in His Word that we might know the Living God and live in Him. The Word of God is intended to change what we do, say and think. It is from the Word of God that our faith in God is strengthened. It is not enough that we simply read the Bible, or even memorize it. For real spiritual success, we need to meditate on scripture so that the Spirit of God can show us what He would have us to do. If you will engage the Spirit of God by asking Him questions of the inspired text, He will direct you into truth and empower you to live out your faith. As an example, the following questions will be helpful as you meditate on God's Word:

General Questions of Application – From This Passage...

1. Are there any attitudes I ought to acquire, delete, or change?
2. Are there any actions I ought to avoid, follow, or modify?
3. Are there any sins I ought to confess and forsake?
4. Are there any examples I ought to follow or not to follow?
5. Are there any commands I ought to obey?
6. Are there any promises I ought to claim?
7. Are there any prayers or praises I ought to voice?

Questions Based on The Profitability of Scripture – 2 Timothy 3:16-17

Profitable for Doctrine

1. What does this passage teach me about God, about the world of people, about the world of things, or about myself?
2. What does this passage teach me about God's relationship to man (unsaved, believer) – or about my relationship to God and others?

Profitable for Rebuke

1. What does this passage teach me about how/why I may have failed?
2. What does this passage teach me about sin and temptation?

Profitable for Correction

1. What does this passage teach me about what must take place to mend my relationship with God and my fellow man?
2. What does this passage teach me about bringing my life back in line with God's Word and will?

Profitable for Instruction in Righteousness

1. What does this passage teach me about how I may live a life pleasing to God?
2. What does this passage teach me about Godliness?

New Testament Reading Schedule

This schedule of Bible reading has been designed to help you to read through the New Testament plus the book of Psalms and Proverbs in one year. In order to reach that goal, you'll need to read one (sometimes two) chapters every day.

Preparation For Your Reading

1. Set a time and a place (quiet & private) to read and meditate on God's Word. Consider this time an unbreakable appointment.
2. Decide with God beforehand in prayer that you will respond in faith and obedience to whatever He reveals to you through His Word.
3. Keep paper and pen handy to record your observations and insights.

Inductive Method of Bible Study
I. Observation – What Do I See?	What does the text actually say?
II. Interpretation – What Does It Mean?	What is the message intended by both the human and divine authors?
III. Correlation – Where Does It Fit?	What does this passage contribute to the overall message of scripture?
IV. Application – How Does It Work?	What light does other portions of scripture shed on this passage? What does this truth look like when put into practice.
